Irrigation Is Sought For District Federal Government Institute Work Free If United Demand

An effort is being made to have the Federal government institute a irrigation project for Champion and district under the Farm Rehabilitation Act and all farmers and residents of the village should consider the project and be prepared to back the committee which was appointed last year for this purpose.

Under the Act the Federal Government are spending money to make the farms of prairie better for present day conditions and work is done with out any cost to the actual farmers.

A survey conducted here some year ago it was felt by building works near Blackie a large area could be flooded, as it was many years ago and from this source an irrigation project could be carried throughout the district.

The writer has visited such a scheme in Saskatchewan and can testify to its value in bringing back hundreds of acres for pasture and crop.

This is a similar scheme to the one visited by the writer and would serve the same way. There is a need for diversified farming where the farmer is not dependent solely on the price of grain which may be up or down or on the weather. With stock and dairy cattle some revenue is derived throughout the year. This would not mean non grain growing but in future growers would have some moisture.

Under the Act passed some years ago by the Federal government and supervised by experts all that is necessary is for the farmers of the district affected to present a united front for the scheme. If the government is satisfied that the project is a sound one the necessary provision will be made in the estimate for Parliament and the work will start next year or when ever it is approved.

Reeve Griffin is chairman of the committee and is anxious that the people of the district understand the scheme. If it is the wish of the majority to proceed to secure this great benefit, to support them in taking the necessary steps.

Reeve Griffin has left a map at the Chronicle which indicates better than words can express the benefits to the whole district which the project would be.

This Is Canada's War And All Must Serve

United Church Minister and Soldier Tells of His Knowledge of Affairs

In the current issue of a Toronto newspaper an address by Reverend Captain Norman Rawson, brilliant young Canadian minister of the United Church stationed at Hamilton, speaking before an Insurance Association in Toronto appears in which the minister stresses the seriousness of the war, many having really failed to grasp the part which Canada plays.

Capt. Rawson who enlisted in the last war as a private and who since his rise to prominence in the United Church has toured Europe states, in English the man on the street can understand, "Don't kid yourself there isn't going to be a revolution in Germany. The German people will not revolt against Hitler any faster than they did against the Kaiser. The belief that we are fighting Hitler and not Germany, is technically correct but nine out of ten Germans are sold on Hitler's program. For five years the same propaganda has dinned into the German people until now they believe that they are fighting for their existence.

Our people do not realize what we are up against. Before we are finished everything we have must be placed on the altar of sacrifice in this war. It was necessary to send 600,000 men from Canada last war it should be that anyway this time. This country is united in its desire to go on with the war.

Captain Rawson said he believed conscription was necessary in Canada. But it was not right that men 18 to 40 should serve and the rest of the folk grow fat on their blood" he said. We must have compulsory universal service. If we can't give our blood at least we can give our treasure.

This is Canada's war. If we are defeated in Europe — which is unthinkable, but possible — Canada would be the prize. We have only 11,000,000 people, but 685,000 square miles of land, more than the United States and Alaska together. If Germany wins, it will promise to respect the Monroe Doctrine but we would have uncontrolled Nazi immigration into Canada and the introduction of Nazi customs. Then what would you have in twenty years?

Johnson and Charles Peacock sister and brother of the bride, attended the couple.

The bride wore a dress of blue taffeta trimmed with silver.

Nearly a hundred guests were present. The happy couple will reside near Barons.

War Puts Light Accounts Up

Pay As You Go Program To Be Supported

Many local people have been heard to complain regarding their lighting accounts due to the addition of the eight percent sales tax imposed at the special session of parliament.

It is a truth that no one likes to pay out taxes and yet in this case it is a matter of paying for the nations protection.

The complaints range from the fact that some who have living quarters and business hooked on the one meter have to pay the full charge while others claim that it is too high a rate and that four percent would have been sufficient.

It is difficult to levy a tax which will be equitable all over Canada. For instance the rates for electricity in Ontario where the government own the system and deliver the energy at cost to the consumers is less than half what it is in many places in Alberta especially in places like Champion where long distribution power lines must be maintained.

The fact however remains that the charge is a war time measure and is only one of the many features which Canadians will be faced with in the prosecution of the war for the defence of our home. As good citizens must do our part even if the shoe pinches, as it does The Chronicle, who is one which has to pay the tax.

Liberals Swept Back In to Power In Quebec Province

Ties Of Confederation Remain Firm
Loyalty To Canada Shown

Liberals swept back into the reins of government in Quebec on Wednesday by defeating the forces of Premier M. Duplessis. Liberals had 68 seats of 85 in an early return. The Liberal leader is Adelard Godbout who was premier for a few months before Maurice Duplessis over turned the Liberal regime of 39 years in office.

The election was of national and international importance because of the issues at stake. Premier Duplessis claimed that Ottawa was infringing upon the rights of the province and

Farewell Party For J L Miller

An interesting program was carried out including a sing led by G. M. Campbell, recitations step dances and other items.

Dancing was indulged in and the happy gathering broke up singing Auld Lang Syne.

that there would be conscription. This was of course denied and other statements led the Federal government to believe an assault was being made on Confederation or at least the unity. Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe said we must defend the existence of our province, of our national life, preserve the work of Macdonald and Cartier, to build a united Canada and a great country of united people. The French members of the Ottawa cabinet said they would resign if the electors chose the policy of Premier Duplessis.

Hallowe'en

Next week ghosts in the form of young people will be very much alive when the annual Hallowe'en time comes around and we urge that moderation be used in the pranks that are played.

We have no thought of being a kill joy but we believe that a real good time can be had without doing wilful damage to property. We have noted that those who receive the greatest joy out of causing annoyance are the first to complain if some thing is done to their own property or that of their dad.

To property owners, householders and funmakers alike we say observe Hallowe'en in a proper spirit and if this is done it will be found that all had a real good time.

Cultural Interests

With the approach of the long fall and winter nights we ask our readers to give time to the culture side of life, taking the means at their disposal to lift themselves out of the immediate surroundings and think on higher aspects of life.

We speak in this tone for we believe that many are missing some of the programs carried by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Our government is spending huge sums of money to carry the great symphony concerts notably the New York Philharmonic and other great musical organizations in Canada.

To some this great music is just boredom and not understood but we believe that there are scores in this district who do enjoy the highest in music and other arts. No we are not highbrow and attend the opera because others do but we along with many others have come to understand music in its true form and can see beauty and grandeur in the concerts. One can enjoy a love or detective story as light reading and yet read the classics. By the same token one can enjoy the rhythm band and still be thrilled by artistry of great music.

By the magic of radio we can bring culture and the better things of life to our very homes.

Leaders Die In Harness

Death during the past week of two western editors Mr. Dunbar of Estevan and Mr. McRae of Regina must be recorded and sympathy to their respective families. extended. Their death is a distinct loss to the country. That the pen is mightier than the sword was exemplified by the influence exerted by these editors in their respective fields.

That both men died in middle life again emphasizes the fact the strain on editors who take their work in a serious and earnest manner is great as is for our statesmen. Being an editor is no easy task and tests the endurance physically and mentally.

Personal Problems

Conducted by Dr. M. M. Lappin

Questions submitted to this office will receive prompt and confidential attention

"I gave up my job and came home two years ago to nurse my mother. She died four months ago, and now life seems to be empty. My nerves are all shot to pieces and sometimes I think I shall go insane. I am under the care of a good doctor but I do not seem to get any better. I wonder if you can help me," asks Heben C.

You must help yourself. Miss C. Naturally you are suffering the reaction of the strain imposed upon you by your mother's illness and death but you must face reality.

I am sure your mother would not approve your present attitude. If you think for a moment you will see how foolish it is for you to indulge over much in grief. It is not helping you any and of course, your mother is now beyond your help.

I can well understand your position and sympathize with you. For two years you were wholly occupied with attending your mother, and now there is a gap in your life. You must find some thing else to take up your attention. I am sure there are many people who would appreciate your kindly interest and help, and since your cure lies in cultivating the ability to forget yourself, the best way to do that is through serving others.

There is no danger of your going insane. Pull yourself together and look around to see if there is not some service you can render for someone some where. Do not hold yourself aloof from other people. Go out and mingle with them. Find some new interests in life, and you will find yourself automatically making the necessary mental readjustment.

By your attitude toward life you can create for your self a life of misery or an atmosphere of well being.

You alone can determine which it will be. I am sure you prefer the latter. Follow my advice and you will be all right.

Red Cross

At a recent emergency meeting of Parliament the Income War Tax Act was amended to provide that donations to patriotic funds shall be exempt from tax up to fifty percent of the net taxable income of any taxpayer, provided such money is paid to an approved patriotic organization. The Canadian Red Cross Society of Canada made application for and has just received Government approval as an organization entitled to come within the provisions of this amendment.

Prospective contributors to the wartime funds of the Society during its November campaign should hold receipts for their donations, to be used in making out 1939 Income Tax returns.

Moral Re-Armament

In appeal for the application of the principles of Moral Re-Armament to meet the national emergency, Sir Herbert Stanley, Governor and Commander in Chief of Southern Rhodesia, The Hon Mr. Flynn, Acting Premier, The Hon Sir Alexander Russell, Chief Justice, and The Hon. Robert Tredgold K.C. Minister of Justice and Defense said:

"What peace can be found even out of the battle for principles if victors and vanquished cease to live these principles the moment it becomes difficult? Where greed and fear pervade our business activity where pride and prejudice dominate our attitude and where self-indulgence and lust undermine home life there can be no lasting peace for individuals or nations.

"We wish every citizen to undertake as his first duty to God and for his country's future a searching self-examination along these lines — am I always guided by principles alone or do expediency, fear, greed, lust and exploitation sometimes determine my conduct? Am I willing to face my lapses, put them right and be guided always by the voice of God at any cost? This is no new call. It was sounded by Lord Baldwin in his appeal for Moral Re-Armament.

"Gods Living Spirit calls each nation, like each individual, to its highest destiny, and breaks down the barriers of fear and greed, of suspicion and hatred. This same spirit, in transcending conflicting political systems and reconciling order and freedom, can rekindle true patriotism, can unite all citizens in the service of mankind. 'Thy will be done on earth' is not only a prayer for guidance but a call to action. For His Will is peace'.

Apple Juice Popular As Health Drink

Maybe Eve had something to do with it- or maybe it's all because of the ancient health proverb about "an apple a day" making the doctor keep his distance. At any rate, a taste for apples apparently is inherent in the human race. And that may explain the rapidly growing popularity of apple juice as the newest of canned natural fruit juices.

Medical authorities, in constantly increasing numbers endorse the pure unadulterated juice of tree ripened Canadian apple as a highly beneficial health food. Containing Vitamins A, B and C, besides an abundance of essential body-building minerals, apple juice is widely recommended both as a delicious and refreshing beverage and as a major ingredient in many appetizing dishes for the family table.

Not too sweet, not too tart—but with a freshness and tang all its own—pure apple juice retains all the flavor and goodness of the apples themselves. As a beverage, between meals, just before eating or at bedtime, it seems to be gaining almost universal approval.

Because of its anti-uric-acid quality, doctors have found apple juice valuable in treating rheumatism, gout and similar ailments, one distinguished practitioner even reporting very good results from fasting patients exclusively on apple juice and water. Many physicians have recommended it also as a tonic for children, elderly persons and convalescents.

Canned apple juice now available for home use in convenient sized tins, is nothing more or less than pure juice pressed from selected apples, with no coloring matter, sugar or preservatives added.
